dear readers,

It seems like only yesterday when my partner Aaron and I were running around town with our friends from the U.S. Consulate to setup the Election Night Event in 2008. Former Consul General in Milan, Daniel Weygandt was determined to celebrate the presidential election in a true democratic fashion.

He extended the participation both to the local American community, as well as to the many non-American friends who value the privilege of democracy upon which Americans have built their nation. Four years have gone by and the diplomatic delegation has since been entirely renewed, yet once again we were offered the privilege to co-host this outstanding and prestigious event.

As the current Consul General Kyle Scott orchestrates the final details, and his extraordinary team speeds up the pace for the final stretch, Easy Milano is still working relentlessly with the Community to bring as many of you together, once again, for what we expect will be a great party. See the front cover for details on how to attend. Pre-registration will be necessary for this invitation only event. Easy Milano readers can request an invitation through the dedicated website, www.uselectionmilan.org. In the meantime, follow breaking news with the dedicated hashtag: #USPresMi.

“...celebrate the U.S. Presidential Election in a true democratic fashion.”

We would like to thank our sponsors Jeep, Bracco, FedEx, Mezzi Comunicazione Audiovisiva, Ampilfon, Coca Cola and Westin Palace Milan, as well as the many contributors who have donated their resources and services to making this event possible. Photos and acknowledgement from the Election Night event will be available on www.uselectionmilan.org as well as on www.easymilano.it

This issue features a special insert on how the American Electoral Process works. See Path to Presidency on page 12. Another distinctive trait of the Anglo-American culture featured in this issue is Halloween. See our recipe column for Easy pumpkin pie on page 7. For those of you who do not have time to bake, Superpolo (p.7) stocks Libby's classic pumpkin pie mix. Another great help if you're throwing a party comes from our friend Estrele Cakes who will custom bake your sweet and savory party treats (p.7). One of the best keep secrets in Milan is our tuxedo rental place Lo Bosco (p.6), who has hundreds of professional quality costumes for rent, ranging from theatrical masquerade to Pixar's character Buzz Lightyear. Don't forget to tell them Easy Milano sent you!

Lastly, we will be kicking off AperitEasy, our official series of aperitivi for the English speaking community. Sign up on our event mailing list www.easymilano.it to receive invites or like us on facebook to get regular updates.

Message from Kyle R. Scott, U.S. Consul General

Dear Easy Milano readers,

Every four years, Election Day in the United States caps off a lengthy and lively debate about America's future. Every election of recent memory has been close -- sometimes right down to the wire -- and this year's contest looks to be heading in the same direction. The long and winding primary campaign, the dynamics of the political conventions, the Presidential debates, and the candidates and the issues are all parts of the pageantry and renewal of America's democratic system that culminates on election night on November 6.

The importance of the domestic and foreign policy challenges facing the next administration make this year's election crucial not just for my own country, but will also have an impact around the world.

“...share in the democratic process at an event we are organizing in partnership with Easy Milano.”

Those of us living and working overseas during these difficult and uncertain times also have much at stake. That is why I encourage all of Easy Milano's American readers to exercise his or her right to vote. If you haven't done so already, I encourage you to visit www.FVAP.gov to register to vote and/or request your ballot. If after visiting the site you still need help, please contact our Consular section immediately at USCitizensMilan@State.gov for assistance.

As Americans, we are all part of the democratic process and I strongly encourage you to add your voice to the election debate by simply sharing your views, your unique experiences, and your convictions on the future. Here in Italy there are a lot of public commentators and experts on our country. However, you and the rest of Americans around the world are the true experts, and I hope that you will take full advantage of opportunities to share your particular version of America whenever and wherever you can.

On Election Night, here in Milan, you will have a special opportunity to share in the process at an event we are organizing in partnership with Easy Milano. As we all watch live coverage from the United States while the results are tabulated throughout the night, American citizens and our international friends attending the Election Night Event will have the opportunity to immerse themselves in the pageantry and drama of the night, expressing their views interactively on Twitter using #USPresMI and to the Italian media who will be on hand to cover the reaction from "real Americans" living in Milan.

Please take note of the registration requirements for attendance on the front cover of this issue and visit www.uselectionmilan.org to learn how to join us on November 6. No matter where you are on Election Night, I hope that you will be watching and sharing in this important event in our nation's history. Regardless of who is elected, I'm confident that on November 7 all Americans will have had an opportunity to have their voices heard, and in the process, we will demonstrate to the world the renewal of our country and our democratic process.

PUMPKIN PIE recipe

INGREDIENTS

- 1 1/4 cups pumpkin puree, canned or fresh
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon all-purpose flour
- 2 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 unbaked pastry shell (9-inch)

PREPARATION

Combine pumpkin, sugar, salt, spices, and flour in a medium mixing bowl. Add eggs; mix well. Add evaporated milk, water, and vanilla; mix well. Pour into pastry-lined pie pan. Bake at 200°C for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 175°C and bake about 35 min longer, or until center is set.

The Path to Presidency

To be eligible for presidency you must be:

- ★ At least 35 years old
- ★ A natural born citizen of the United States
- ★ A 14 year resident within the United States

Democrat

BARACK OBAMA

*44th President of the United States of America,
former U.S. Senator and Illinois State Senator
Born August 4, 1961*

Running for his second term as President, Barack Obama was the first African American President in U.S. history.

Between earning degrees at Columbia and Harvard Law, he spent two years as a community organizer in Chicago and also worked as a civil rights attorney.

He served three terms in the Illinois State Senate from 1997-2004 after which he was elected to serve in the U.S. Senate (2005-2008). In 2009, Obama was named the Nobel Peace Prize laureate.

Step I

PRIMARIES AND CAUCUSES

In these elections, party members and American citizens vote for the candidate that will represent their party in the upcoming general election.

Republican

MITT ROMNEY

*Former Massachusetts Governor
Born March 12, 1947*

Born in Detroit Michigan to a political inclined family, both he and his father served as governor to Massachusetts. Romney attended Stanford University in 1965, one year later moving to France as a Mormon missionary. He completed his undergraduate education at Brigham Young University and later attended Harvard Law and Harvard Business School where he earned his J.D. and M.B.A. He went on to manage a successful private equity firm, a spin off of Bain & Company. If elected, Mitt Romney will be the first President of the Mormon faith.

Running - Mates

JOE BIDEN

Current Vice President of the United States of America and former Senator of Delaware

PAUL RYAN

Wisconsin Congressman

Delegates Needed Total Delegates

Democratic Delegates	★ 2,778	★ 5,552
Republican Delegates	★ 1,144	★ 2,284

Delegates: To become a party's nominee for president a candidate has to be nominated by a majority of delegates attending the party's national convention. Republicans must win a majority of 1,144 delegates and Democrats must win a majority of 2,778 delegates. Each party determines how many delegates are allocated to each state.

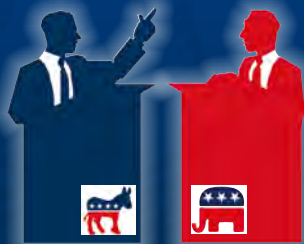

Step 2

NATIONAL CONVENTIONS

After the primaries and caucuses, a national convention is held by each party to finalize the selection of one Presidential nominee. During this time, each Presidential candidate selects a Vice-Presidential candidate.

Step 3

PRESIDENTIAL DEBATES

- ★ The first debate focuses on domestic policy.
- ★ The second debate (town meeting format) allows audience members to raise questions to the candidates.
- ★ The third debate focuses on foreign policy.
- ★ A separate vice presidential debate includes domestic and foreign policy.

Total number of electoral votes:

538

To be elected a candidate must win at least:

270

Step 4

GENERAL ELECTION

Now that each party is represented by a candidate, the general (popular) election process begins. This always occurs on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November every four years. 51 state-level elections are held and determine the Electoral College.

The Electoral College:

Voters do not directly elect the president but choose which candidate their State electors will support. The candidate who wins the majority of votes obtains all of that State's electoral votes.

The number of electoral votes per State is determined by its population. If no candidate wins by a majority of the electoral votes (at least 270 votes), the House of Representatives elects the president.

Electoral Map

Votes allotted to each state

Step 5

INAUGURATION

The elected President and Vice President take office the 20th of January. At noon the new President is sworn in by the Chief Justice of the Supreme court.
